LOCAL CPA FIRM ANNOUNCES NEW NAME, ENHANCED SERVICES

(Bloomington, Ill) – Henning, Strouse, Jordan and Stephens, an established Bloomington-Normal CPA firm, has announced that it will be changing its name to Insight CPAs & Financial LLC, effective immediately. In addition to changing its name, the firm has added three divisions: Financial Litigation Consultants and KueblerNicholas Financial Group along with Summit Tax and Accounting in Decatur, Illinois.

The companies, with partners Mark Nicholas, CPA, CFE, CVA, CFF and Kevin Kuebler, CPA, will provide current and future clients with a broad range of financial services. With the expansion comes the addition of financial litigation and wealth management services for individuals, businesses and nonprofit organizations. Clients remain the number one priority, and Insight's staff of experienced professionals will continue to operate as a team to provide the best service at the best value. Due to the expansion of services offered, the firm also plans to add six to ten employees during the next six months.

“Financial planning for individuals and businesses is critical in our volatile world,” said Kuebler. “Our new combination of financial and tax planning expertise brings a new synergy to our clients to help meet their financial goals.”

Nicholas has more than 23 years of public accounting experience, and his primary focus is providing accounting and tax services, fraud investigation/prevention, business valuation, marital dissolution and litigation support services. Kuebler's understanding of business accounting, systems and processes, combined with his financial advisor knowledge, will be key in assisting individuals and businesses build solid financial planning practices.

“We are thrilled about the changes we've made, and the positive impact they will have on our clients and the community,” said Nicholas. “The addition of financial litigation, financial planning and wealth management services will benefit our clients tremendously.”

Insight CPAs & Financial LLC has been serving the community for more than 60 years and will continue to provide experienced individual and business accounting services to Central Illinois. Summit Tax and Accounting, a division of Insight in Decatur, Illinois, will also provide a broad range of services.
